Drobot Guest at Council

The regular meeting of Town Council was held on February 13th, with all Councillors present, and special guest Mr. John Drobot MLA for the St. Paul constituency. Mayor Ed Buck indicated the MLA had been invited to meet with the Council to review and discuss issues of concern.

Mr. Drobot began by indicating the Minister of Alberta Municipal Affairs has announced that there will be no increase in Municipal Government grants in 1984.

Council outlined their concern with respect to the construction of a provincial building in Elk Point. Mr. Drobot indicated that the Government had reviewed their plans and that construction was not feasible with the current economic recession. Mr. Drobot went on to say that he was continuing his efforts in working towards that direction. Mr. Drobot also indicated that as Chairman of the Decentralization Committee of the Government, a close look at the need for such construction was part of the committee's responsibility.

The matter of the provision of government services and the need to establish those services in Elk Point was brought up by Council. Mr. Drobot indicated he was prepared to work closely with the Town in an attempt to bring those services to Elk Point.

Council questioned Mr. Drobot with respect to the Senior Citizens Lodge proposed for construction in Elk Point during 1984. Mr. Drobot stated that as far as his information was concerned, the project was proceeding on schedule, even though the government is going through a period of restraint.

Mr. Drobot went on to say that paving of secondary highway 646 to secondary highway 881 is not a priority at this time and that paving of the Lindbergh to Heinberg bridge portion of 646 would not be going ahead in 1984. Mr. Drobot discussed the government's program for the Whitney Lakes Provincial Park, which was slowed down in 1983, but added that the program would resume within one year's time.

Council questioned the feasibility of Elk Point obtaining a nursing home. Mr. Drobot pointed out the governments restraint program, but indicated that this would be an area he was prepared to keep working on with Town Council.

Council questioned the widening of highway 41 north of Elk Point. Mr. Drobot stated that to his knowledge this project would not be undertaken during 1984, but that a meridian bridge would be built on highway 17 by the Saskatchewan government, 50% of the costs to Uchman returned home from College, February 28, to spend time with his family during term break. He'll be home for four months in April and hopes to secure employment in his home town during the summer break.

Cough, cough

by F. Schwab

Every year I come down with the same dose of spring fever. My thoughts automatically drift to convertibles, dark sunglasses, and cutoffs. That was the big thrill when I was growing up, driving up and down mainstreet, usually without a muffler, drinking gallons of Coke a Cola, checking out all the hunks. This only lasted one day every year, like a compulsive habit you couldn't break. The reason it only lasted one day was because the day after spring fever hit you, pneumonia set in. So guess what, I am sitting here at home with a sore throat, aching bones, and a slight fever. Pretty good for someone my age, isn't it? To say I came down with the fever would be rather quite accurate. As the years have come and gone, I have secretly hoped I would grow out of this terrible habit on mine. Oh, there is just no solitude for the wicked, some things just aren't meant to be altered.

I suppose if I incorporated some common sense I probably could be my own saviour of this insurmount-table anguish, but you see, the Lord bestowed many talents upon myself, talents which would suit me well if I were a life-long resident of a nut house. Not so good if you have to live with the rest of the world though.

So here I sit, wishing my departure to the there-after. Did you ever notice, that when illness befalls us, the first thing we refer to is that we feel like we are dying. For some people, that's the first thing they say Sunday morning after closing the bar down on Saturday night. Don't laugh, I use to be one of them.

Gosh, whenever I used to have a drink (I don't anymore at all) I would end up on the couch for two days praying to be put out of my misery. It was also a religious time for me, only because I was too hungover to get up and turn the T.V. off.

Can you image how many sermons I listened to during the time I spent suffering on the couch. Oh well, I suppose it did more good than harm.

Speaking of harm, I do not wish anymore to fall on my shoulders, so, I'll do like the good ole doc said, and tuck myself in nighty-night, in hopes this wretched fever leaves so I can join the world of the happy and healthy, to get on with the second stage of spring fever. You really didn't think one day was all there was to it, how did you?

F.G. Miller Report

Home and School

The F.G. Miller Home and School Association is pleased to announce that a representative from A.A.D.A.C. will be in attendance at the next meeting to be held Tuesday, March 13th, 1984 in Room 8 at the F.G. Miller Jr/Sr High School. (Time 7:30 p.m.) The main topic for discussion will be Drug and Alcohol Abuse.

The first A.C.T. Search for Talent Show went well last Saturday, February 17th, in Elk Point. Nearly 300 area residents gathered at the gymnasium to watch local talent unfold on the stage. A.C.T. has been co-hosting shows around the Lakeland area for many years, but as yet has not been in the town itself. The co-ordinators were extremely pleased at the generosity and support shown by the people of Elk Point and district, and will probably be returning next year to host another Search for Talent. Thank you for continuing your support of the A.C.T. Northern Alberta Crippled Children's Fund.

Cable T.V. Update

Crews have now completed the installation of the main trunk line which will carry the T.V. signals from the "head end", or receiving unit to the various residential and business areas of the town. At the time of this writing, the satellite dish and tower of the head end had not arrived but was due at any time. Upon completion of its installation, crews will then begin installing the individual drops to each home or business. As each drop is completed, you will receive live television signals immediately.

Remember, if you still want to get in on the initial round of cable hook-ups, application forms are available at Bill's Appliances and Furniture (Albi Electric, Elk Point).

long term patients. Just recently, Carolyn Onusko, has acquired the allocated appointment of Activity Aide with the Hospital and she how co-ordinated the Adventure Hour, which is held every Friday morning at 10:30 a.m. in the Elk Point Municipal Hospital.

On Friday, February 24th, Heather Bjornstad's classes of grade 3's and 4's, 23 children in all, paid a visit to the eleven long term patients at the hospital. Armed with a wide variety of books, the children paired off into groups to read stories to each patient. After the children were treated to juice and cookies provided by the Hospital.

Another activity for the patients is on Wednesday's at 5:30 p.m. when Cindy and Nancy Adkins entertain them with their piano playing, which is greatly enjoyed by the patients.

Announcement

In the upcoming school year, individual piano lessons will be offered to ages three and up. These lessons, starting in September, will be taught by Debbie-lou HUSKINS and held at the Elk Point Elementary School during school hours. Debbielou comes to Elk Point from Red Deer where she taught both privately and at the Red Deer College. She is experienced in teaching ages three to adult in traditional, Suzuki, classical, and popular, as well as instructing classes in musical theory. Lessons may vary from beginners to the advanced levels. Although lessons will not commence until September, only a limited number of students can be accepted. Therefore scheduling must be completed by June. Further inquiries may be made by contacting Debbielou at 724-4314.

Guess Who!

Our callers this past week didn't seem to have any problems guessing our own Fija Schwab. Lillian Ewasiuk and Randy Jacobsen were both correct but Joe Amyotte was the winner as he was the third caller Friday morning.

Pictured above is a young man who's lived in Elk Point for two years and is involved in various community activities. Try guessing who he is.

was to Banff and we skied for a full three days at Sunshine Village. The weather was terrific and so was the skiing. Even those who had never skied in the mountains before, were challenging intermediate and expert runs before we left.

There were lots of bumps and bruises and stiff muscles, but an evening of soaking in the Sulphur Mountain hot springs seemed to do wonders, and everyone was up and ready to go again each morning. It was a well-behaved and fun-filled group...many of whom are already talking about next year's trip which promises to be the best one yet.

Many people feel they can protect themselves in a collision but consider how well you could protect yourself by reaching out at a brick wall if you were running at it head on at 30 m.p.h. Now combine your speed of 30 m.p.h. and another vehicle at 30 m.p.h., the collision impact is 60 m.p.h.

The force is equivalent to thousands of pounds of weight working against you.

Consider the person seated behind you in the back seat. If his body was thrown at you at 60 m.p.h., what would happen to you or what would happen to a child sitting on your lap and your body was thrown forward against the dash or back seat.

I've heard people say, "I'd rather be thrown clear in an accident!". Well consider the T.V. advertisement of the watermelon thrown onto the highway at 30 m.p.h.

Fire or submersion in water are rare in accidents. But even in such cases, seat belts are an advantage because they help you to remain conscious and thus get free of the car.

Seat belts keep the driver behind the wheel and in control of the car. If you were to suggest to a race car driver that he not wear his seat belt, he'd likely think you were totally insane.

Children are extremely vulnerable in a vehicle, their body structure, their fragile skulls and heads which are heavy in proportion to the

Kitchen Corner Kates

The Kates would like to invite the ladies of Elk Point and district to share some of their favorite recipes with us and the public. Please leave any recipes you'd like us to publish with any of the Kates at the Toronto Dominion Bank in Elk Point.

Continuing with casserole recipes, here's one Laverne guarantees as absolutely delicious. Even Bernie says it's great.

Swiss Chicken and Ham Roll-Ups

- 1 1/2 C coarsely ground cooked chicken
- 1 can 10 3/4 ounce condensed cream of chicken soup, divided
- 1 green onion, thinly sliced
- 6 sliced boiled ham
- 2 C cooked rice
- 1/4 C dairy sour cream or yogurt
- 1/4 C milk
- 1/2 C shredded Swiss cheese
- Paprika

In mixing bowl combine chicken, 1/3 C soup and onion. Spoon 1/4 C chicken mixture on ham slice and roll up. Secure with wooden toothpick, if necessary. Spread rice in shallow 1 1/2 quart dish. Place roll ups on top of rice. Mix remaining soup with sour cream and milk. Pour over ham rolls. Cook about 30 to 40 minutes in 350 degree oven.

Serve with tossed green salad or coleslaw.

Hint: If cheese has become hard and dry, don't throw it away. Grate it and store in a tightly covered jar for later use in sauces and toppings.

Background: Oil Sands

The project is designed to extract an estimated 24 million cubic metres (152 million barrels) of recoverable oil sands bitumen from the Lower Cummings formation of the Mannville group, which lies at a depth of about 650 metres. During 1984, Amoco will undertake a development program to include the drilling of 60 wells, construction of a steam injection facility, and a crude-oil cleaning facility. Estimated expenditures by Amoco for this first phase are expected to be approximately $50 million. Thereafter, the scope of the project will depend upon the operator's periodic assessments of technical and economic feasibility. Over the life of the project, Amoco estimates that more than 1000 wells may be drilled and that expenditures could amount to $1.8 billion.

It is estimated that roughly 350 construction jobs will be created in the region during the first phase and that ultimately there will be 300 permanent positions available. Additional jobs will be generated in the manufacturing and service sectors. Alberta's drilling and drilling services industries will be major beneficiaries of the project.

Production from the subterranean deposit will involve the application to the reservoir of various steam-drive thermal recovery techniques. A test of these techniques will be conducted in late 1984 before proceeding to field application.

Based on preliminary estimates, daily bitumen production is projected to increase gradually to a peak of 4200 cubic metres (26,600 barrels) per day in 1995. The rate is then estimated to remain at about 3500 cubic metres (22,000 barrels) per day for approximately nine years. Thereafter, production will decline, but forecasts indicate that the project as now conceived could generate bitumen production until 2010 and beyond.

Although the Canadian market may in the future be capable of absorbing the project's total production, as well as other heavy oil being developed in the area, this is unlikely to occur for the next eight to ten years. On the other hand, refiners in the United States have evinced a keen interest in competitively priced heavy crude oil from Canada. For these reasons, plans call for Elk Point production that is surplus to Canadian requirements to be exported to the United States.

It is estimated that roughly 350 construction jobs will be created in the regions during the first phase and that ultimately there will be 300 permanent positions available.

Further Ed Council Meets

The Elk Point and District Education Local Council met in the F.G. Miller High School at 7:00 p.m., February 23, 1984, with approximately fifteen members present. Minutes of the November 16, 1983, meeting were circulated.

Following acceptance of the minutes, suggestions were voiced that The Home Maintenance Workshop, March 12th should be held on a weekend, rather than a weekday. However, the D.H.E. is limited to holding the course when it can be fitted into her schedule.

A. Kates, for the Financial

Committee, reported there had been a slight surplus in funds for the past year, so the committee recommended not asking for a raise in grants. They also recommended a small increase in janitor fees paid. She noted that rent for use of the Community Service Center has been raised to $1100 per year. (County Councillor Bob Smith, member, said this rent was not excessive, considering heating, etc.).

A list of courses offered and hours of classes, plus number of participants in the past year was given. Total courses were forty-six, with class hours of 544.6, and an enrollment of 486 students. Most popular courses seemed to be dancing, with 10 courses offered; in combined old-time and aerobics, with sewing crafts (quilting and basic, etc.) showing 9 courses offered. The list was quite impressive.

Coordinator Gwen Nelson gave her summary of the year's events, with thanks to all who assisted in making it a successful year.

The statement of Income and Expenses showed a healthy balance. Some costs were higher than last year, others less. A new method of funding allowances is being used, where the Council will be deciding more where the money will go, rather than Alberta Advanced Education, the department doing the funding.

This being the Annual meeting, the nominating committee selected Laverne Wilson (incumbent) to continue as Chairman, Gwen Nelson will continue as Coordinator until June only, and the Vice-Chairman, nominated for the floor, is Sid Holthe.

A newsletter, "Connections", compiled by Further Education Services, Edmonton, was circulated to the members. A mini-newspaper, the sheet contains numerous articles of interest to the adult learner.

New Course suggestions formed a list of some dozen or so projects, some previously run, some new. Mrs. Kates brought to the attention of the group that some Further Ed. Councils offer free tuition to seniors, once the course has its starting eight signed up. John Dahmer, of Lakeland College affirmed that this is so in many councils, St. Paul, Two Hills and Vermilion among them.

A motion was then carried that such free tuition be offered to anyone age 65 and over, paid from council funds, once the initial eight students have been signed up.

Mr. Dahmer gave the group a short talk on various aspects of adult education, saying that Lakeland College in no way wants to compete with Further Ed Councils, but will assist them in any way possible. He stated that there is now a possibility that a "driver's school" will be formed in St. Paul, with

by Irene Magnusson

Elk Point learning drivers able to benefit from this source.

Of interest to Elk Point business persons may be a T.I.P. program, which is designed by Lakeland College to assist businessmen in planning, bookkeeping, etc. There will be a survey done.

There will be a painting-for-advanced-artists course in St. Paul in March; a full summer program in Vermilion; and a General Education Diploma (GED) program where an adult may be able to get a high school diploma without completing all grades.

Speaker Rollie Seville, of Alberta Advanced Education, gave a brief outline of how money comes into the coffers of Further Ed Councils. He then mentioned that the Elk Point Further Ed should be having a tenth anniversary soon. Mrs. Kates was able to show from her notebook that the founding meeting for the Council was December 10th, 1973. A bit late, but nonetheless an anniversary commemoration will be held in connection with Culmination Day, sometime in May. A committee was formed to assist with this.

Mr. Holthe suggests the council have a 'banner' made or purchase one, for use in parades and 'color' marches, and suggest a deadline for same no later than July 1st. Chairman Wilson will look into this matter.

Elks Victorious

On Wednesday, February 22nd the Elk Point Elks played against the Kehewin Voyageurs.

The first period opened up with a penalty, in the first fifty-two seconds of play, and came to an end the same way, with only 1 second of play remaining. Altogether nineteen penalties were handed out, with each team receiving one game misconduct when a slight disagreement erupted at the half way mark. With both teams shorthanded for the majority of the period, the Elks managed to pop the puck three times into Kehewins net to give them the lead of 3-0.

During the first five minutes of the second period, penalties ruled the action with each team receiving two apiece. Kehewin then picked up their first goal, which was followed twenty-eight seconds later by the Elks for their fourth. Kehewin then went ahead to pick up two more penalties, with the Elks receiving one. The second half of the period saw the Elks obtain their fifth goal, and one final penalty. Kehewin made a slight comeback, by scoring three consecutive goals, leaving the score at the end of the second period Elks 5- Kehewin 4.

The third period opened up with a penalty for the Elks who then went ahead to score a shorthanded goal. Kehewin followed to receive a goal and a penalty at the same time. The Elks then went ahead to pop three into the net, in less than four minutes. With seven minutes left in play, Kehewin scored their sixth and final goal. The Elks used the last four minutes of play to score their two final goals, leaving the score at Elks 11- Kehewin 6. The game saw a total of thirty-four penalties being handed out, with the majority being served by the Kehewin Voyageurs.

News from the Fair Board

This month's report features two important classes for exhibitors in the Elk Point and District Agricultural Society's fall fair.

Entries by Senior Citizens, convened by Lilly Sass, includes a broad range of crafts and cookery. Such standbys as knitting, crocheting and embroidery, both with thread and liquid, have a total of six sections, while sewing includes practical and fancy aprons, plus any other sewing samples.

Any type of quilt may be entered, hand or machine worked, made by one or more persons, and might even be tied. Cushions, plain or fancy, in any medium, will be considered.

An opportunity to show off your good home-baked bread and cakes is there, and new classes of muffins and baking powder biscuits have been added. One deletion will be the pyroghies, which are being moved to the baking section.

Mrs. Sass regretted the small showing of last year, and urges all seniors (men or women, 60 years and over) to prepare now to make a good display next summer. "And," she urges, "don't be shy of showing your work. What if it (in your opinion) is not perfect. Bring it anyway. The point of a fair is to enter, not always only to win. There would never be any winners if someone didn't enter."

And of course, you well may win! So get that work done well ahead of time. And be determined to enter. Work doesn't always have to be new, as long as it is clean and pressed, and has never been entered before.

One new section to the Sr.'s baking is the addition of Sound investment

When you think of investing your hard-earned dollars, what criteria immediately comes to mind? High dividends? A proven record of performance? Accountability?

In the 75 years of its history, the Canadian Red Cross has translated the generous donations of its millions of supporters into high-profile, cost-effective services for the benefit of Canadians from coast to coast, life-saving services like free blood transfusions, water-safety courses and first aid.

In doing so, the Canadian Red Cross has consistently maintained a sterling record of accountability to its supporters.

When it asks for your donations during its annual March fundraising campaign, the Red Cross assumes a role of stewardship to ensure that the funds are channeled to those community-based services which need them the most.

Without the financial support of its many contributors and a responsible administration of funds collected, the Red Cross could not fulfill its humanitarian mandate.

When you pledge your support during March, Red Cross month, think of the many services offered by Red Cross.

A gift to Red Cross is a sound investment in the well-being of your community.

F.C.S.S. wishes to apologize for the errors and omissions in the community directory. Specifically the omission of any mention of the Tourist Association, the omission of the word 'Councillor' in front of Fred Kryvenchuk's name, the misspellings of dental and Dr. Kleeberger's name and the placement of the U.F.A. fancy Ukrainian decorated bread, which many ladies around Elk Point are very good at. If possible, Sass will have a senior lady at the fair to demonstrate this age-old craft for viewers, who will see first hand the artistry of the old traditions.

The other section I will mention today is House Plants, under Rose Doucet. The list here is long, with 28 classes, counting sub-classes, 37 in all.

But then there are many kinds of houseplants, some flowering, some enjoyed for their foliage alone. Now is a very good time to learn more about your plants. If you have any doubts about their names, try to pick up a booklet (they have some at the greenhouse, or try your library) with names and pictures of houseplants. Mrs. Doucet would like to have all plants identified by name when you enter them.

Another important point she stresses is that plants be neat and trimmed, all dead foliage and flowers removed. Plants should be healthy and free from insects or disease.

Now might be a good time to experiment with some kitchen throw-outs. Cut off a carrot top, or beet or turnip, set it in a dish of water and see what happens. Pineapples work this way too. Then there are all those seeds, oranges, apples, dates, grapes and grapefruit, to name but a few. Some very exotic looking plants can be carried from these kitchen 'throw-outs' - and you may take first prize.

Another winter project could be to get a little cactus garden growing. These plants grow very slowly, so if these are your pets, start getting them in shape.

discussed. Council indicated that when the government had a highway paving project in the area, it would be advantageous to incorporate a municipal street paving program in conjunction with the provincial program. Mr. Drobot felt that the Town should present this to Alberta Transportation at the time the provincial paving program is underway in this area.

The matter of Town Planning and Development with respect to concerns for the development of apartments being financed through Alberta Mortgage and Housing Corporation was discussed. Council outlined their concern with respect to the Alberta Housing Corporation land bank and their wish to dispose of some of this land and see some development. Mr. Drobot gave the example of the Town of Slave Lake, which had overdeveloped.

The matter of power rate increases was brought to Mr. Drobot's attention, with a review of the proposed costs. Mr. Drobot indicated that a lot of opposition has been received by MLA's across the province.

The Fort George Buckingham House Historical Site was reviewed and Mr. Drobot stated that the NADC was impressed with their visit to Elk Point, and especially with Steve Andrishak's private museum.

Council advised Mr. Drobot of the proposal to build a new municipal library, utilizing MCR grant funds during 1984, and that the Town was investigating the availability of a Federal grant for the construction of museums.

Mr. Drobot indicated he is presently considering opening a sub-constituency office in the Town of Elk Point, with Mayor Buck offering the use of a room in the old courthouse for this purpose.

In closing, Mr. Drobot said that the Council should be very proud of the Elk Point Municipal Hospital facilities and operation, as the hospital was managing to operate within their budget. Mr. Drobot also commented on the fact that the nurses in Elk Point have never been on strike, which is a credit to their service to the community.

Mayor Buck thanked Mr. Drobot for taking the time to meet with the Council, and for his efforts in obtaining grant funds from Alberta Utilities and Telecommunications for the water treatment plant.
